Martin Allen writes...

to talk about you and want to run you out of town? I wonder what it is like to try and speak truthfully but to have your words taken, twisted and used against you. I wonder what it is like to lose your friends who swore to be with you. I wonder what it is like to be imprisoned for what you know to be right and to face punishment and death. That can be the experience for refugees and sadly is the experience of Christians in some countries.

It was also the experience of Jesus.

We're not specifically told if Jesus feared the things he faced. He certainly knew anguish (Luke 22:44) and what we are told is that he was fully human so we can say he must have known fear. He was though, not disabled by fear. He was fully in tune with God's will for his life, and though that was hard, was accepting of it. He was able to face death in order that we could be freed from its grip and so He could rise again. That is good news for us and for the things we are fearful about.

How was that possible for Him? Well he had a Heavenly view which was Over Personal Evaluation of his situation. He had HOPE. As the writer of Hebrews puts it "Now faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see" – very much the opposite of fear. My prayer for us and for those praising God in the midst of suffering and war is that faith will grow as we H O P E for what we do not yet see. I hope that the good news of Jesus death' and resurrection will fill our lives with purpose meaning and joy.

Happy Easter
He is risen - Alleluia!

I'm writing this at a time when fear is sweeping across Europe. We may have thought that Covid 19 was all there was to fear in life. Sadly, however we are in the midst of an international crisis with the Russian invasion of Ukraine. We are praying for a peaceful settlement and cessation of hostilities and that rational decision making and justice will prevail.

We all recognise fear. For some of us it's a feeling in our stomach, for others it's a feeling in our head. We may be fearful of someone -an enemy or a bully. We may have known the fear of losing a loved one, the fear of ill health or broken bones. We may have faced the fear of losing a home or fearing the uncertainty of losing a job. We have all known the fear of Covid 19; some of us will have known the fear of war.

Some writers would say that fear is Future Events Appearing Real – those things we worry about appearing to become reality. This has a degree of truth to it and for some of us we are bound up by those things in the future we worry about looking likely to happen. Sadly at the moment some of our worst nightmares are coming true.

I wonder what it is like to leave behind all you have known and travel to a distant land being cut off from your family? I wonder what it is like to not be accepted by the people you meet? I wonder what it is like to try and help people only for them

Pam Horsfield writes...

At last.... It's a lovely sunny day with the daffodils blooming all around the village and hope of going to our meeting tonight in the light. It feels as though it's been a long time since we did that! Plus tonight we can celebrate birthdays with four of our members and enjoy Eileen's cheery flowers arrangement.

Our committee is still very busy, and this month we met at The Inn for our evening meeting, as we're ringing the changes and meeting at the local pubs for a meal while organising the future. It's not all Jam and Jerusalem with Alvechurch WI!

Angela is busy this month, and next if needed, by collecting in subs either by cheque, cash or bankers order, as long as we make it easy by naming our payment. Pam reminded us of the trip to WaterPerry Gardens, the Worcester Walk for 'Women Walk the World' day (last chance), and the Federation Craft Show at Rowberry's Garden Centre in July. We also have a stroll around Barnt Green centre next Monday for members who like a short walk, and we'll have a cuppa at The Vic. Pam also had information about registering with Western Power for their Priority Services Register in case of a power cut.

Our speaker for March was Angela Cloke, giving us a talk on sign language. As Mariea sent Angela's information sheets with the monthly email to all of our members, we could print the sign language symbols if we wanted. It's all fascinating to look at and very worthwhile to study in order to be able to communicate with others who have a specific language difficulty.

Judy Lakeman thanked Angela for joining us and helping us to appreciate the importance of sign language. Next month Susan Drage is our speaker. When we visited the WI Speaker's Day ages ago we were so impressed by all the recycling artistic creations which Susan showed, and we've waited nearly three years for her to visit. She'll be with us on Monday April 11th at 7:30pm in the Village Hall. Do come and join us. Or you can contact Mariea Clarke on - presidentialvechurchwi@gmail.com

Jacqueline Hollingworth writes...

Our March meeting was an interesting evening with Ivan Heard, telling us about the history of The Birmingham Hippodrome. He started from its beginnings and involvement over the years, going up to the time when the Ballet companies, Sadlers Wells Royal Ballet, soon to be called, The Birmingham Royal Ballet, took it over. He gave his talk ahead of the usual WI business which allowed us plenty of social time and refreshments.

A fish and chip supper is being organised, as is a walk with drinks or a meal to follow, later in the summer.

Along with our usual list of interesting speakers, we will be holding a Jubilee-Tea street themed party, to celebrate the Queen's platinum Jubilee in June.

We are organising a collection of toiletries and clothing for the Ukraine Appeal. Let us sincerely hope this terrible conflict does not go on for much longer.

Our next meeting is on April 6th and our programme is called Tax Care and Toy Boys!! Why not come and join us. All inquiries to Pat McDonagh 0121 628 4121.

Baby Loss Awareness Week

October 9th – 15th

In St Laurence Churchyard is a forgotten corner where babies who have died were buried. Most of these are unmarked graves, a shadow of a history when the unbaptised were buried outside of the churchyard.

We have a vision to but right this, to lament and remember as a community the loss and love in that place. We have commissioned a tree stump to be carved into an angel and to clean up the area to make it not a forgotten place but a loved and honoured part of our churchyard. If you would like to make a contribution to this carving, please get in contact with Mick Fletcher (Church Warden).

On Sunday 9th October we will be holding a special service of remembrance and unveiling of the statue.

A Service of Shadows Tenebrae and Taize

A service of readings that trace the story of Christ's passion, music which portrays his pathos, and the power of silence and darkness suggests the drama of this momentous day. As lights are extinguished, we ponder the depth of Christ's suffering and death; we remember his sacrifice; and through the return of the small but persistent flame of the Christ candle at the conclusion of the service, we anticipate the joy of ultimate victory.

What will Easter bring?

Peter Atkinson, Dean of Worcester writes...

What will Easter bring for the people of Ukraine? I write these words at the beginning of Lent, and the situation is so fast-moving that whatever I write will soon be out-of-date. But we already know that for hundreds of thousands, at least, Easter will bring heartache: the heartache of bereavement, of injury, of loss of home and livelihood, of exile in a strange land. And anger too, for all of us: anger at a war so stupid, so unjustified, so economically crippling, so distracting from the still greater crisis of the climate and the environment, so perilous on so many levels for the whole world. Anger is the only appropriate response at colossal wickedness. And Easter? Do we cancel Easter in our anger and despair? No, because Easter is not ours to cancel, whatever we may feel. Easter is the affirmation that the Lord lives. He who felt fear and agony in Gethsemane - lives. He who was brutalized at the hands of soldiers – lives. He who was condemned to a public execution – lives. He who felt himself forsaken by God in the face of death – lives.

And those who mourned his death met him alive, and learned the lesson that death is not the end. Those who cowered in fear behind locked doors found him with them - alive. Those who walked sadly home found him beside them on the road – alive. Those who went fishing, not knowing what else to do, found him waiting for them on the beach – alive.

Let us pray that the Easter faith which so transformed those first disciples will take root in our hearts as well. ‘Neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord’.

Thank You

What a lovely surprise I had when I was preparing to celebrate a very special birthday. I found myself surrounded by friends and family in the Ark.

I remember my family telling me to expect a few friends but was amazed and thrilled to see so many family and friends share my special day.

Words, unfortunately cannot do justice to my feelings, then and now, but I want to say thank you again for being there—I am so blessed. Janet Hosking.

Making Disciples: Everyday Faith

Doug Chaplin, Discipleship and Lay Training Officer offers some thoughts on being a faithful disciple at work, or outside the sphere of church activities:

As we move through Lent, we turn our attention to the way of the cross. Around the halfway point in the gospels, Jesus starts to prepare his followers for what is to come by stressing the cost of discipleship. "If any want to become my followers, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me." (Mark 8:34).

Do pray for all who are finding it particularly hard to be faithful to Jesus in difficult circumstances, at home, at work or in the community. Many people also find it hard to work out how best to be a faithful disciple at work, or outside the sphere of church activities. Take a look at some of the new resources the Church of England has produced (www.churchofengland.org/everyday-faith). Something there may be exactly what you're looking for.

Ponder also, as you remember Jesus' final walk to Golgotha, how challenging faithfulness can be. Does the church say enough about the challenge of becoming a disciple, or do we keep trying to make it sound easy, when it often isn't? Who can you help rise to the challenges of faith in today's world? And who can help you?

A call to prayer for Ukraine

Bishop John calls on all in the Diocese of Worcester to pray for the people of Ukraine and for peace, and for the leaders of the West as they deliberate on how to respond to the terrible unprovoked aggression of Russia. He has invited people to use the prayer by the Dean of Worcester, Peter Atkinson, for public worship and private intercession.

Bishop John says:

“This is a tragic day: Europe is at war again. The unprovoked attack on a free democratic country by Russia is an abhorrence which threatens all of us in the free world. I ask you to pray most earnestly for an end to this aggression and for peace.”

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York in their joint statement this morning have said: “The horrific and unprovoked attack on Ukraine is an act of great evil. Placing our trust in Jesus Christ, the author of peace, we pray for an urgent ceasefire and a withdrawal of Russian forces. We call for a public decision to choose the way of peace and an international conference to secure long term agreements for stability and lasting peace.”

"The Archbishops have since written to the churches and I commend their letter - <https://www.cofe-worcester.org.uk/content/pages/documents/2022-02-24-ukraine-pastoral-letter-from-the-archbishops.pdf>

Flowers

We are anticipating that this year we will be able to have Lilies in Church in memory of our loved ones. I have put a list in church on the table for you to add the names of those you would like to be remembered at Easter and for donations towards the cost of the flowers.

After Easter I am hoping that we will be able to have flowers in Church on a more regular basis but only if I have names of those willing to help in this respect. Do contact me if you can be of any assistance in any way.
