Rev Richard Bubbers Writes...

Being busy

I was licensed by the Bishop of Dudley in a special service at St Laurence on Thursday 12 February as Priest-in-Charge of the parish of Alvechurch and as a workplace chaplain in the Bromsgrove area with Faith at Work in Worcestershire, and Sally and I have really appreciated the welcome we have received from so many.

As Bishop Graham said at the licensing service, much thanks goes to all those who have worked hard in so many different ways in the parish during the last 18 months of the vacancy since David Martin's retirement. I am very aware that a constant challenge facing us today is how we deal with the ever-increasing pace of life. We are not designed as human beings for the business of earning a living and/or the "busyness" of our lives to be constant.

The busyness of our 21st century culture has been described like this: more and more people use their mobile devices in bed, when having a shower, and in other previously private situations. The pace rarely seems to decrease. Burnout or stress-related depression may be the result. It is increasingly difficult simply to be, and to be present in the moment - to enjoy the moment. The result of a lifestyle which is 100% different from how people have lived for thousands of years, is a lack of peace and contentment.

Some of you may have seen the tv series, "The Big Silence": about half a dozen people were taken out of their ordinary lives, to live on a silent, monastic retreat for a limited period - the only contact they were supposed to have was one hour a day with their spiritual director: the programs showed their spiritual progress. The effect of being away from all the usual distractions, and actually engaging with themselves, had a remarkable effect on their lives, and for some was truly transformational.

On Thursday evening Bishop Graham referred to Mark 6. 31, which says this: "then, because so many people were coming and going that they did not even have a chance to eat, Jesus said to them, "come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest." Never think that Jesus and his disciples had a stress-free life - that somehow life was just much easier for them than it is for us now. Mark tells us that there were so many people "coming and going" that they did not even have a chance to eat. But amid all this what does Jesus remind them of: the need to go with him "by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest."

It is important amid the busyness of our lives that we seek to find ways of discovering some space away from the usual pace of life. It was said long ago that an unreflective life is a life not worth living. If we want not only to help ourselves cope with the anxieties and stresses of daily life, but also to fulfil our potential and become the people God intended us to be, it is important that we seriously seek to make this a priority on at least a weekly basis. If it was important for Jesus in his earthly life, how much more important it is for us today. Jesus said that he wanted us to have life and have life in all its fullness (John 10.10): Jesus knew that there is a healthy rhythm of work and rest, which we need to seek if we want to know wholeness in our lives.

Events at Alvechurch Library

Steve R Dunn, Barnt Green author is paying us a return visit to tell us about his new book The Coward? The Rise and Fall of the Silver King.

The Coward? Is the first ever biography of Rear Admiral Ernest Troubridge and is a powerful story of how one decision changed a man's life forever, costing him everything – his career, his social standing and his wife.

Barely three days after Britain declared war on Germany in August 1914, Rear Admiral Ernest Troubridge – a rising star of the British Navy - made a decision that seemed inexplicable and was to dominate the rest of his life and naval career. Commanding the 1st Cruiser Squadron, heading for an engagement with the German battle cruiser Goeben in the Mediterranean and having clearly signalled his intention to engage the German ship, Troubridge suddenly changed his mind, turned his vessels away, and allowed the enemy ship to escape.

Steve R Dunn unpicks the mystery with his customary meticulous research and analysis. Was Troubridge a coward who avoided a fight, or a hero who put aside empty patriotism to save his ships and their crews from almost certain destruction? The Navy and its First Lord, Winston Churchill, made their views clear by ensuring he never commanded at sea again while his wife chose to abandon him in favour of her lesbian lover. Rather than facing up to the negative press and constant rumours, Troubridge left Britain for France, where he died in 1926.

Please join us on Saturday 14th March 2015 at 11am to meet Steve at a book selling and signing event and hear how he went about writing his latest book.

St Laurence Women's Fellowship

Jill Woolley writes...

At the first meeting of the New Year we celebrated with a fun afternoon with seasonal refreshments and a visit from a Pantomime Dame. Richard Westcott, who played Dame in Panto for many years, gave us a demonstration of his stage make-up and then dressed in one of the striking costumes he makes himself (complete with wig, hat, jewellery and high heeled boots) gave us a Panto sketch and taught us a couple of songs. It cheered us up on a gloomy January afternoon.

On March 25th we welcome Sheila Tremellen M.B.E her talk entitled From Kennels to Buckingham Palace via Television.

Come and join us at the Tanyard Centre at 2pm but beware of the parking restrictions. We will welcome you.

Alvechurch Historical Society

Our most recent meeting was the AGM, where business included recording our thanks to retiring secretary, Margaret Gardner. AHS has a varied programme of talks, and Margaret has excelled at transcribing and summarizing them, reminding us each month of the talk we enjoyed the month before.

The AGM was followed by slides of Alvechurch in the 1970's, taken by Wayne Harris and Nancie Bason. To complete the evening there was a talk about two cycling tours of England, undertaken by Nancie Bason in 1933 & 1934.

Our next meeting will be on Monday 2nd March 2015 when Ron Gallivan will give a talk on "The Victory Harvests 1940-1954".

We meet on the first Monday of the month in the Museum, School Lane at 7.45pm. There is plenty of parking behind the Catholic Church, with their permission. New faces are always welcome, just come along or contact our chairman, Anne Humphries on 0121 445 5955.

The Women's World Day of Prayer

What's it all about?

A world-wide movement led by Christian women of many traditions in more than 170 countries!

Each year women of a different country prepare a service, and it is used all over the world, on the first Friday in March.

Usually there is a flavour of the culture and environment of the country, and always the life and challenges of the women in that country are included.

This year the service has been prepared by the women of the Bahamas. Many resources have been made available to help those (not just women) who are preparing, taking part or attending the service. Most of us may think of the Bahamas as a wealthy place and a tourist destination. We are learning of the history of the 700 islands (only about 23 inhabited) and the current challenges that Bahamians, especially the women, face in terms of poverty, illness, unemployment and other social needs.

The service in Alvechurch this year will be on 6 March at Alvechurch Baptist Church, where there will be refreshments and a chance to chat informally at 3.15pm, followed by the service itself at 4 pm. It's not just for women, we invite you all to take part. Other services will be held in the area. See www.wwdp.org.uk.

Stained Glass Windows Appeal

Margaret Haste writes...

Thanks to Graham and Lynne Clark as the fundraising events for 2015 got off to a great start on 31st January with a quiz and fish and chip supper in the Ark. Those attending had to grapple with some real brain-teasers but all the teams rose to the occasion and seemed to enjoy the challenge. Visitors from St Marys Alvechurch and St Anne's West Heath helped to swell the numbers and their support was much appreciated.

The fish and chips also went down well so, all in all, it proved to be a very enjoyable evening, as a result of which some £350 was raised. This included donations from two members of St Laurence who were unable to attend.

By the time this goes to press the auction, scheduled for Saturday the 21st February, will also have taken place so let us hope that was very successful.

A further event for your diary is a family fun evening, with lively music to dance to, on Friday 8th May, so do please put this on your calendar.

If anyone has any ideas for further events which they would like to share, I would be more than pleased to receive them so.....onwards and upwards.

Post Lent Gathering

Thursday 30th April at 7:00pm in the upper room of the ARK
Sue Phillips writes...

Lent groups are now underway, in six different venues. Each year these ecumenical groups provide an excellent opportunity to reflect together on a Christian theme in an informal setting. Personally I really enjoy them, and it's for a number of different reasons. SEE PAGE 15 for a list of the Lent groups.

At the forefront is the way a regular meeting during Lent helps me to focus on the journey towards Easter with its both solemn and joyful celebration of Christ's death and resurrection; then there is the stimulating and thought provoking lens through which the groups are viewing that journey, which changes each year, this year it's called 'Walking and praying with Christians from the Middle East'; and the third key feature for me is the whole business of sharing this journey in a small group setting. It's so enriching to travel this journey with others, and our ecumenical Lent groups provide an excellent opportunity to walk the path with people with whom I, as a member of St Laurence, don't regularly worship. I find this particularly enriching, though past experience of leading Lent groups tells me that challenging discussion rarely occurs along fault lines that distinguish our different denominational traditions, far more significant in the way we see things is the personal life story each one brings to the discussion.

So as I write this before the groups start later this week I'm full of anticipation (and rather glad that this year I'm not running a group so am free to choose which one to join!).

In recent years we've found a way to share the different group experiences by concluding with a post-Lent gathering, a celebration of the ways in which the six groups have travelled towards Easter. It's always fascinating; no two groups are the same. This year St Laurence's will be hosting that event on Thursday 30th April at 7:00pm in the upper room of the ARK. You are warmly invited, and if you've been unable to attend a Lent Group, but are curious to see how this works then please call me, Sue Phillips on 0121 445 3620, for details of how you can participate.

If you have an interest in this very topical subject we would love you to join us as we learn more about life in this troubled area, and perhaps think more about the way we should be relating to it.

The six groups are listed below. Please choose a group and then contact the leader of that group to tell them of your interest and to check details.

Obituaries

Renée Bennett

Renée Bennett of Branden Road, wife of Douglas and mother of Christopher, died in December aged 86. Renée was born and grew up in Liverpool with her older sister Pauline and brother David who became a musician of some repute, and a regular judge of Young Musician of the Year. Renée enjoyed her school days at Childwall High School and sang in the local Abbey Church Choir. Music was to become an abiding interest throughout her life. At the age of 17 she joined the WRENS and whilst stationed in Scotland attended the first ever Edinburgh Festival. Her love of the performing arts later led her to train in ballet and qualify with the Imperial Society of Teachers of dancing, attending master classes with famous international dancers in London and putting on shows in many areas.

Renée and Douglas met whilst she was staying with a friend in Cornwall, they married and eventually moved to the Midlands. They settled in Alvechurch and enjoyed being part of the friendly and supportive community, Renée joined Redditch Music Society and also continued to dance, this time with the Scottish Country Dancing team in Alvechurch and Birmingham for as long as her health allowed, maintaining friendships by forming a group of 'Ladies who lunch'.

When she was diagnosed with Lewey Bodies Dementia, she was greatly helped by Barnt

Green Day Centre. A truly lovely lady who will be missed by all who knew her especially her husband Douglas, son Christopher and granddaughter Nikki and Nikki's husband James.

John Hall

John Hall was born and brought up in Alvechurch. After fighting a brain tumour for several months he died at the age of 59 at his home in Smedley Place, with his family around him. John went to school in School Lane, Alvechurch before leaving and taking on an apprenticeship at Delson's. He was a motor mechanic and spent years working as a recovery driver/mechanic for Redhill garage, as well as running the general stores in Hopwood.

For the last 18 years he ran his own car repair business. As a young man he met and married Denise who had moved in to live next door when she was 13 years old. They were married for 38 years and had two children Martin and Michelle, who gave a tribute to their Dad at his funeral which was conducted by Rev Ian Firmstone in Redditch crematorium on December 22nd 2014. John loved his garden and set it up as an adventure playground for his four grandchildren. He also loved the outdoor life and his Land Rover.

He will be sadly missed by Denise, Martin, Michelle, grandchildren Jemima, Abigail, James and baby Jessica, and his brother David and sisters Erica and Ingrid.

Edward 'Vic' Scotford

Edward Victor Scotford, known to most people as 'Vic' died on the 14th January at the age of 90. Vic was a family man, father of five children, grandfather to five and with eight great grandchildren. Vic was born in Smethwick, and at the age of 14, in the days of horse drawn milk carts became a milkman. His horse called Pardoe and his smart jodhpurs eventually drew the attention of Betty whom he married in 1946 and from whom he was separated by death in 2013 after 65 years of married life.

Vic served with the Durham Light Infantry, where he first learned to drive when put at the wheel during an army exercise! He served in France, Belgium and Holland where he suffered an injury and was sent to Ireland for convalescence.

Vic was a hard working family man, having taken over the Newsagent's shop from his aunts. Hard work didn't prevent him from having fun with his four surviving children: Susan, Deborah, Nick and Jane who remember family picnics in Arley, games of French cricket, and short breaks to Butlins.

Later Vic and Betty added many holiday destinations; Amsterdam, Bruges, Paris and memorable trips to the USA, along with their close friends Fred and Joyce, four pensioners in a hire-car on the Pacific Highway. Betty and Vic were a sociable couple, and in later years Vic was known to his neighbours for the cheery wave from his sun-filled front porch, a kind and genuine man who brought happiness into the lives of those who knew him.

His funeral took place at Redditch crematorium and his ashes have been buried with Betty in St Laurence church yard.

Flowers

Ann Thurrell writes...

No flowers again in church until Easter Day.

My thanks to all who have helped with providing flowers during the last few months whilst I have been recovering from surgery. I am hoping to be able to take charge once more although I am still needing a lot of help - flowers and water are heavy objects together!

I would also like to thank you all for your prayers which have been a great comfort to me and to Tom.

Stained Glass Windows

Barbara Griffiths writes...

The Grapevine went to press prior to the Auction on the 21st February therefore I am unable to give a report on the event. However I will submit an article for the April Grapevine when I will be in a position to tell you how much the Auction raised.

In the meantime I would again like to thank all who have donated articles or vouchers - your generosity is greatly appreciated since without these the Auction could not take place.
